The Teams offer small group and individual support for officers and agencies coping with stressful situations. Many staff prefer a confidential alternative to mental health professionals when dealing with a traumatic event. While the teams do not attempt to replace psychotherapy, we do offer a, "I have walked in your shoes" perspective that many staff relate well to. With team members spread throughout the state, we are available to quickly support any staff in need. It is our sincere hope that our services will prevent staff from turning to negative or dangerous coping methods when they experience a critical incident.
